Back to School Social

Juniors and Seniors involved in one of the games during the Back To School Social. Sullivan is wondering how close he really wants to get...everyone else seems to be enjoying it though...

The intense and invigorating game, Needle and Thread, almost got everyone excited to be back in school, and plus they got to hold hands... :)

Marshmallows and socializing, what more do you need?

The kids received Sunny D, and cookies along with the chance to roast marshmallows... usually at CHS get-togethers the flames are bigger, but the effects are still the same.

Celebration members: Brittany Davis, Derrick Moody, Kelsi Cook, Dallen Fiscus, Shanna Henderson, Jordan Sparks and Megan Cook holding up Andrew Petersen.

Andrew Petersen and Michelle Hoffman enjoying a dance together.

Halloween

Students gathered in the main commons for a scavenger hunt. They were split into nine teams and each team received a starting clue. The race was on.

Each team collected a total of 10 clues before returning to school. The clues were in various places from the cemetery to the west end of Main Street. The clues above were at the rodeo grounds.

The race back to the school was close, but everyone managed to return safely. (Some quicker than others...) After getting back to the school, everyone enjoyed donuts and juice.

The judges decided that everyone did great, so all the participants got an ice cream party, and the first place team got a pizza party. The candy really was a prize...but it was for the best-dressed people in each class.

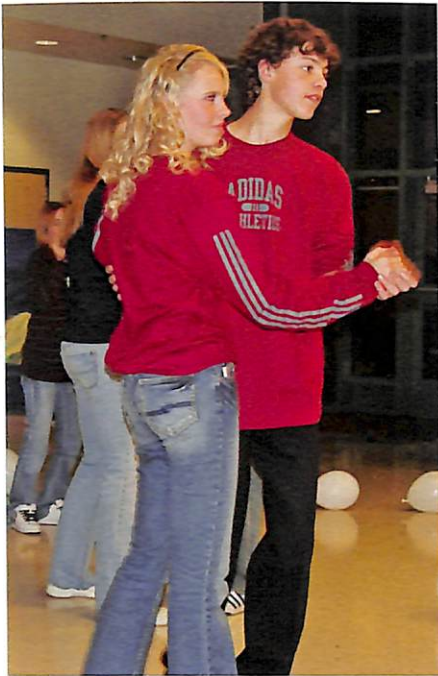

Right: Boogeyman, a.k.a. Mr. Wilson, fired up a chainsaw and chased the students. More than one person screamed.

Below: Sullivan Teichert showing his unique personality.

Everyone looked forward to Halloween because they could dress as their true selves. The CHS students redefined scary Halloween costumes. There was some of everything, from hippies to BYU superfans, to kitty-cats and clowns.

Frozen Fantasy

Below: The "no-daters" deep in conversation as they try to hide behind the decorations.

Electricity sparks as Kallie Briggs stands under the mistletoe. (By the way, Kallie and her date, Dallen Fiscus had shirts that said "What happens under the mistletoe stays under the mistletoe.")

A secret huddle for the after-dance fun planners. Is it fun, or is it really just mischief?

Oklahoma! This was the third time that Oklahoma has been successfully performed at CHS. This musical is a story written in the way that life often goes. A guy is trying to catch his gal and she is being obstinate.

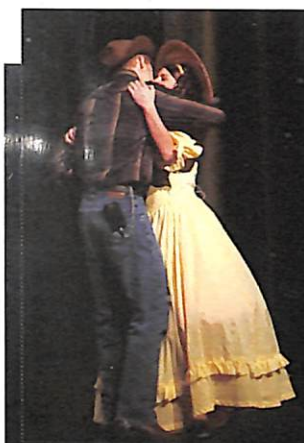

Curly (Andrew Petersen) is a cowboy. Laurey (Mary Teichert) is a country girl. They are both unknowingly in love with each other, but they are too proud to admit it. To spite Curly, Laurey agrees to ride with Jud (Bob Cook), the possessive farmhand to the barn raising. Meanwhile, Will Parker (Dallen Fiscus) comes back from Kansas City where he has been working to earn the $50 needed to marry Ado Annie (Shanna Henderson). But Ado Annie can't seem to say no, and is dragging around the peddler man, Ali Hakim. (Casey Saxton)

The second act begins during the middle of the Skidmore's barn raising. Aunt Eller (Brittany Davis) settles the ongoing dispute between the farmers and the cowmen. As the lunch hampers are being auctioned off, Will unwittingly spends all of his money trying to prove his love to Ado Annie, and is rescued by Ali Hakim. Jud spends all of his life savings on Laurey, but Curly wins after selling his saddle, horse, and gun. Jud tries to declare his love to Laurey, but instead he scares her and she fires him. Curly finally persuades Laurey to marry him. During their wedding party, Jud comes back and attacks Curly. In the fight, Jud is killed but Curly is declared innocent in the act of self-defense. From Persian Good byes to Oklahoma Hellos, the audience declared this musical a "smooching" success.....oops smashing success.

The Spanish Club

On March 8, 24 students, 14 advisors and 100 bags of luggage were awaiting transportation from a Wyoming snowstorm to adventures in Puerto Vallarta, Mazatlan and Cabo San Lucas, Mexico.

After 2 days at sea we landed in Puerto Vallarta, Mexico. It was 70 degrees warmer than home, we were speaking Spanish like a bunch of "loco gringos" and the waves were bigger than Bear Lake!

The Spanish Club obtained passage to Mexico on the cruise ship, Golden Princess. The "water beds" were great, but the rocking dinner tables were entertaining to say the least.

Student Body Officers

Meet the Head Honchos of CHS...

Can anybody say
President? Casey
Saxton, was a phenomenal SBP
for the school year 2007-2008.

The President's
right hand....
Talisha Sparks.
Sparky always had bright ideas.

The secretary,
Camille Petersen, always somehow managed to keep everyone's feet attached to the floor.

“ They were so strict they almost had an occasional revolt from various students.... but all is swell.
Everyone had a great time...
and they got 'er dun.

CHS's Student Body Officers for the 2007-2008 school year were Casey Saxton, Talisha Sparks, and Camille Petersen. They spent the year planning and carrying out activities and ensuring that all students had the opportunity for a great school year.

Casey, Talisha, and Camille bring out the "surprise" panther for the Christmas Party.

Student Council

GOOD planning turns into GOOD FUN! Back to School was one of the first activities that the student council planned. It included many fun activities like playing games such as needle and thread, the sitting game, friendship tag, and to top it off, roasting marshmallows and drinking orange juice.

Sullivan Teichert, Sage Representative, and Andrew Petersen, Junior Class President, hauling the results of our Christmas food drive. There was a lot of food, and they didn't even get to eat it.

Our Student Council planned great parties and dances. This was the Valentines Dance where the kids played musical chairs. They had a dancing game where one boy and one girl would pick a random name off of the "HEART" board and they got to dance the next dance together. There were many other fun activities throughout the night, and don't forget the cookies and punch!

YEARBOOKIES

Lisa Lazcanotegui. This was Lisa's first year in yearbook. She likes to spend time looking at pictures of boys on the computer, wishing she was on the beaches of Mexico. She helped do the Junior High pages because she knew she could boss them around. She liked to participate in activities that would lead to the result of her phone in the office.

Talisha Sparks? Wow.. this was news to Mr. Thompson, Talisha in yearbook?? Sparky was never in class, she was usually involved in other activities that included talking to Logan on MSN, listening to Hannah Montana and sluffing class. She also loves to be difficult. This was Talisha's 3rd year doing yearbook. She helped with the Teacher's pages because those were the only people she could get along with. :)

Brandon Harris, enjoyed spending time weaseling out of doing anything exept checking his stocks and becoming bubble shooter champion of the world. He also liked to bug Bryant about trading places with him so Brandon could go find a hot seniorita down in Mexico on the cruise. This was Brandons 3rd semester doing yearbook.

BOOKIES

Camille Petersen. Pete was the editor for the yearbook, for the second time, after doing yearbook a full 3 years. She mainly worked, ate, talked, and talked some more. You could usually find her in the computer lab, or wandering the halls with Mary and Talisha, heavy on wandering in the halls. She often enjoyed physics breaks and often looked for chances to "take pictures".

Mary Teichert. This is also Mary's 3rd year. She LOVED roaming the halls with Camille and also enjoyed the physics breaks. She helped with the student pages because she was such a loving person and got along with everyone. In addition to roaming the halls, Mary spent most of the first semester working on her calculus, to help her intelligence... she finished the last semester working on the yearbook pages.

Bryant Helm. He was a deep thinker who liked to tease everybody and play his PSP. He was always being bugged by Brandon about trading places on the cruise, but well enough Bryant never gave in. Bryant is very quiet, but devious. This was his first year and he helped with the Junior High pages.

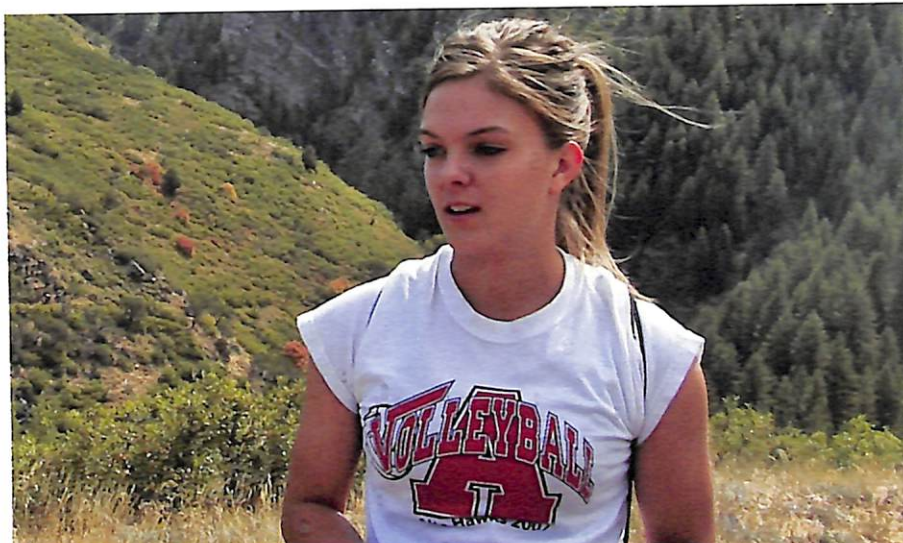

Bookies

Kebra Kallstrom. Now serving her second year in yearbook, she readily volunteered to help other people do their pages as she let her pages go. She was always busy trying to decide which boy to chase or text. She liked to come up with new ideas on how to do pages, and enjoyed tormenting Mr. Thompson.

Michelle Hoffman. This is her second year and she is still trying to beat out Camille for editor. She worked very hard at trying not to do things by pretending to create the highlight videos. Michelle also found out that Mr. Thompson's bean bag chairs make great beds if you're ever feeling a little bit overworked. Her goal in life is to become a beach bum in Mexico where she can use her "fluent" Spanish to beg the tourists for money.

Katelyn Teichert. This was her first year doing yearbook. She liked to sit around and talk, make herself look busy or she would play with the barbie and cars in Coach Thompson's class with Michelle. She was smart and picked to do the Homecoming pages, so after that was over she was done for the year. Katelyn also made good use of her time by printing off pictures of people and hanging them up on posters in the hallway for everyone to see, along with Michelle and Megan.

Last of the Bookies

Celinda Teichert. This is Celinda's first year in yearbook and with all of the work that she has done, it might be her last. As a beginning "bookie", she of course says that she has done most of the work. She wants world peace, feed the hungry, and play professional sports. She did want to walk on a sandy beach, but she did that during the Spanish Club trip.

Megan Cook. This is also Megan's first year and of course she will tell you that she did most of the pages, especially during the week that all but one other person didn't go on the Spanish Trip. She kept herself busy by doing the assembly pages, but then when you only have two assemblies, who wouldn't want to do those pages. She plans on becoming a super model and performing in Las Vegas.

Mr. Thompson. As always, Mr. Thompson was trying to get the yearbook done on time. From the picture, he is actually telling you in sign language how many people actually worked on the yearbook. Being busy trying to whip the yearbookies into shape has become his passion. Like every other year, they just blow him off.

Mr. Barnes

Mr. Barnes is always trying to look tough, but "Grandma" doesn't seem to be intimidated at all.

Coach Barnes should probably give those basketballs to the girls so they can warm-up...

Mr. Barnes is in his second year at CHS. He is currently teaching in the Math and P.E departments and coaching junior high girls basketball.

His job doesn't look that bad.... girls always work harder so it's easier to teach, not to mention he's surrounded by them.

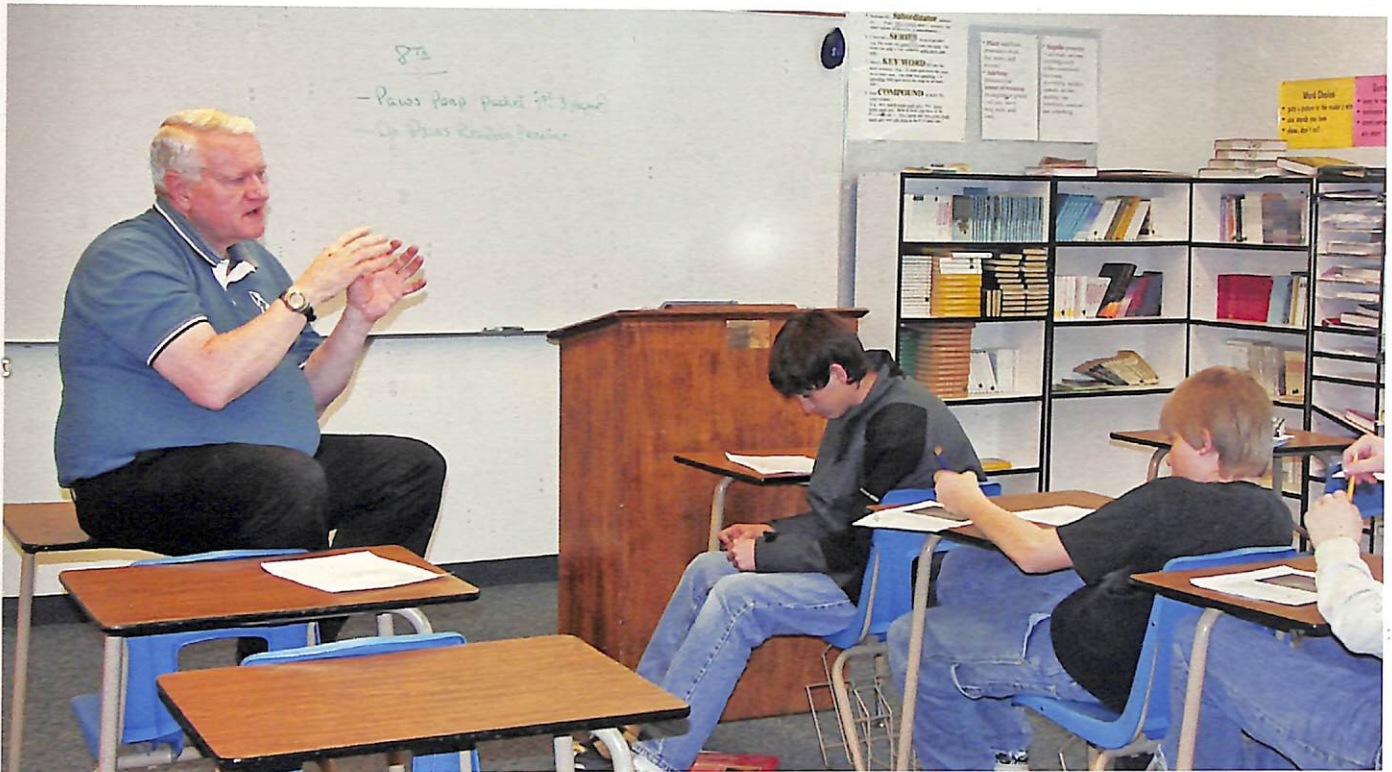

Mr. Beck

Mr. Steve Beck, English teacher poses for the camera on picture day.

Being a teacher and grading papers really isn't as hard as he is making it look...

This must be one of those days when everyone just sits there and wishes they were somewhere else. Mr. Beck probably wishes he was fishing and the students probably want to be eating or sleeping.

Mr. Beck has been teaching at Cokeville High School for five years. He teaches in the English department and his classes range from 7th grade to English 1010. But apparently it's harder to teach the younger classes, because they obviously don't listen very well. And it takes them a while to understand the concepts he's teaching.

Mr. Dayton

Mr. Todd Dayton has been teaching and coaching at CHS for many years. He teaches science, PE, and elementary PE. He also serves as the second in command and is the activities director.

Mr. Linford is one of the English teachers. He is also the Spanish teacher as well as the junior high football coach and high school wrestling coach.

Everyone loves Mr. Linford as a teacher, but maybe the comfy chairs have something to do with it

Mr. Nate

Mr. Nate is the art teacher. His students have done many types of paintings, drawings, and ceramics.

Mr. Taylor helping his students out with their computer problems.

Mr. Thomas

Bets were placed and despite her efforts Michaela Thompson couldn't hide from ALL cameras as she spent a week in BYU blue. Mr. Thomas only had one thing to say, "Never place a bet with Mr. Thomas because you'll always loose!"

Mr. Thomas teaches to an attentive classroom! :)

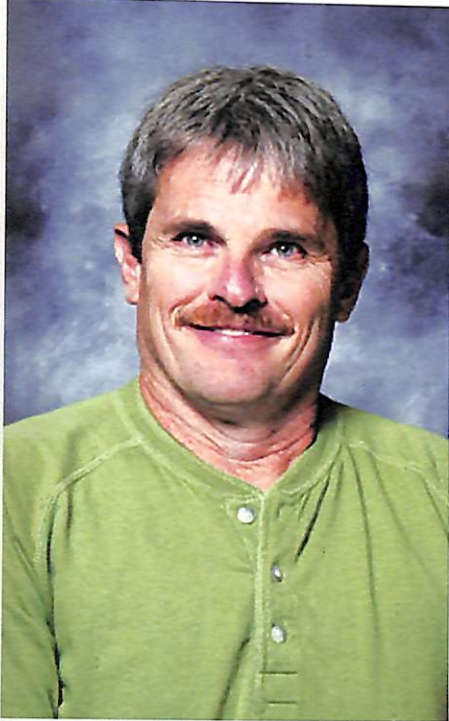

Beginning his teaching career at Cokeville High School, Mr. Scott Thomas teaches History, Government, Economics, and Drivers Ed classes. Mr. Thomas is also currently the High School Boys Basketball Assistant Coach. Mr. Thomas graduated from BYU with a bachelor in History and from UNLV with a masters in Education. He and his wife Juilia have four children: Andrew, Matthew, Hunter and Rachel.

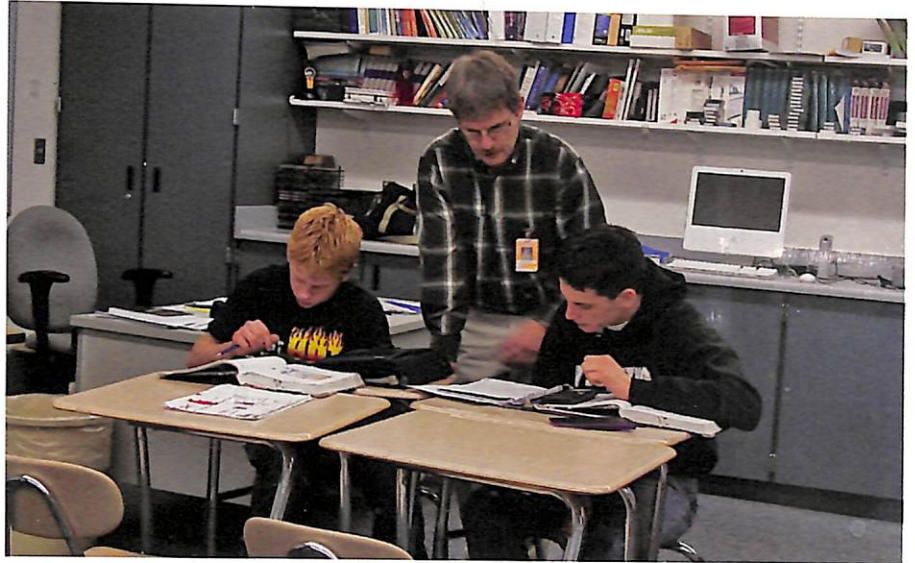

Mr. Thomas poses for the camera as "teaching Ashbee".

Mr. Thompson

Mr. Thompson was the student body advisor, as well as a broadcasting, yearbook, filmmaking, and math teacher. He is also the assistant volleyball coach.

(Bottom): Mr. Toomer helping Thomas Tonga with some school work.

Mr. Wilson

This is Mr. Joe Wilson's first year of teaching science at CHS. Before moving to Cokeville, Joe Wilson ran track for Weber State University and then moved on to Utah State to earn his Masters degree. He is married to Ann Marie and they have two children, Miles and Sullivan.

Mr. Wilson removes a sample from a deer for the Environmental Science class to test for Chronic Wasting Disease.

Mr. Wilson and Mr. Thompson took the Biology II and the Broadcasting class to observe the Salmon Run.

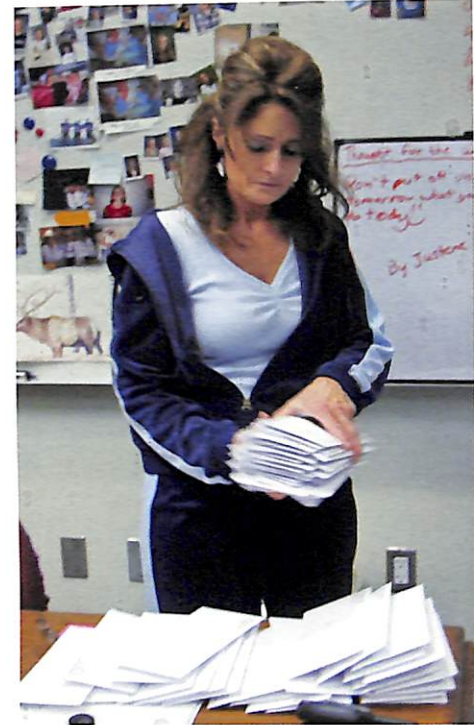

Librarian and Teacher Aides

Mrs. Roberts is one of the three most loyal aides in the school. She is always kind and willing to help. Most of her time is spent helping Thomas Tonga.

Mrs. Payne, our librarian, spends many hours aiding and encouraging students to read. She continues to come up with creative reading competitions, and is a great benefit to the school.

Mrs. Kemp is the students advocate! She is always found helping students, mailing grade printouts (which the students will appreciate...eventually!!), or being the "Mom" of the computer lab. All of her spent energy is very much appreciated!

Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Kemp, and Mrs. Payne make up three fourths of CHS's female faculty. They do a lot of the "behind the scenes" work that people don't often see. Yet without them, Cokeville High School would never be the same; They are definitely underpaid.

The Cooks

Lori Kennington washing dishes after serving lunch.

Sivi Harmon making homemade wheat rolls to go along with the rest of our healthy lunches.

Sherie Davis unthawing some delicious, yet unrecognizable food to be served during school lunch.

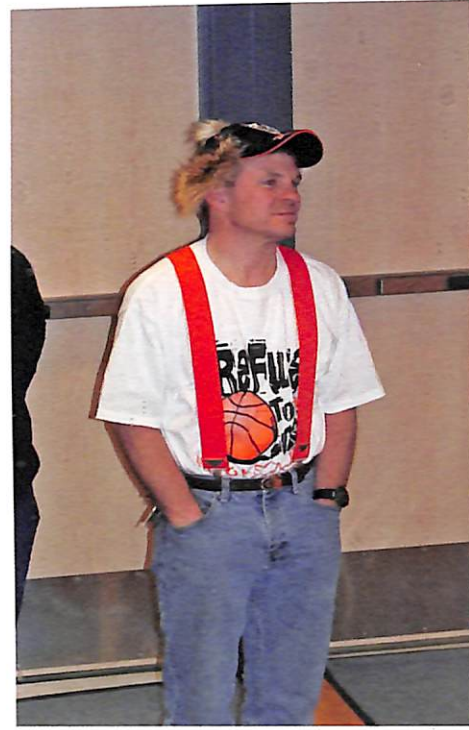

Bev Cornia and Lori Kennington serving our favorite food- TOTS!

Custodians

Mr. Moody taking a unique break in the office while trying to catch his breath. He is always helping people in need and doing random odd jobs people need done, but all the while he keeps a smile on his face.

Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Clark debating on whether or not they should try to clean up the gym after all the rowdy fans leave.

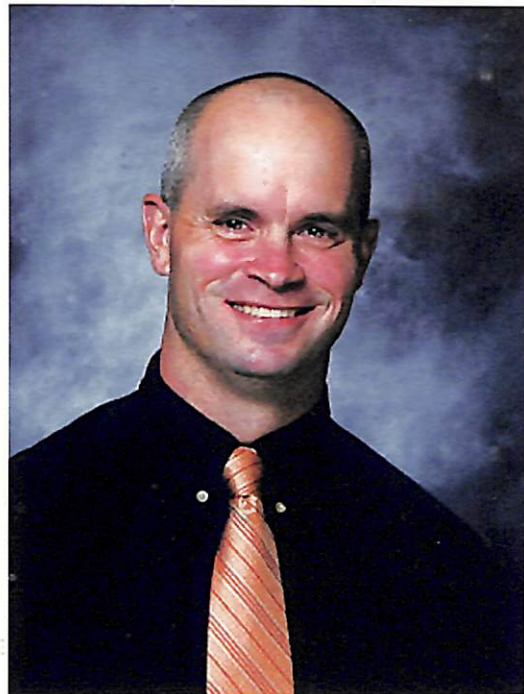

Custodian Betty Thompson spiffing up the desk.

Administration

The Principal, Mr. Harris, is either out in the halls making sure students are behaving, working in his office, or going to training sessions. He keeps our school in order and makes sure everyone is doing what they are supposed to be doing.

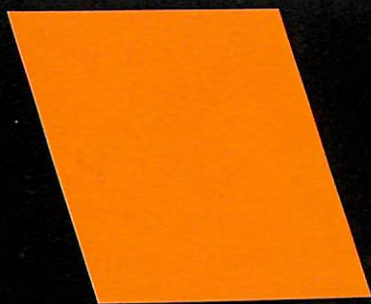

As usual, Mrs. Pope, the executive secretary of CHS is smiling. She keeps our school running in a well organized manner. Without her it would be a disaster zone. She keeps track of the money (including getting students quarters round the clock), getting teams hotel rooms, and lots of other things that we probably wouldn't even understand.

FAREWELL, LADY BIRD

The world said goodbye to Claudia Alta Taylor, a.k.a. Lady Bird Johnson, at the age of 94. Lady Bird was known for her role as the quintessential political wife. She campaigned tirelessly alongside her husband and even used her inheritance funds to assist with his bid for political office. After Lyndon Baines Johnson became the nation's 36th president, Lady Bird worked as an advocate for the beautification of America and the Head Start program.

ROVE RESIGNS

President Bush's long-time political adviser announced his resignation and left the White House in August 2007. Karl Rove was the latest in a string of administration resignations following the Democratic takeover in Congress. Rove's departure from the White House came as a result of Chief of Staff Josh Bolten's request for staffers to resign before Labor Day or commit to serving through the end of Bush's term.

QUEEN ELIZABETH HITS MILESTONE

Britain's Queen Elizabeth II became the country's oldest reigning monarch when she surpassed the record set by her great-great grandmother Queen Victoria. Victoria lived 81 years and 243 days, and Elizabeth surpassed that record. However, the longest-serving monarch record still belonged to Queen Victoria, who reigned for nearly 64 years. Queen Elizabeth has served for 55 years since her coronation in 1952.

SANCTIONS FOR SECURITY

According to Iranian President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad, Iran's nuclear weapon development was a closed issue. However, despite repeated demands from the U.N. Security Council, Iran did not suspend enrichment of uranium. The council responded by imposing increased sanctions on Tehran for its refusal to comply. Iran maintained that its nuclear program was aimed only toward generating electricity.

LEAD SCARE RAISES CONCERN

Chinese products fell under scrutiny after potentially dangerous levels of chemicals and toxins were found in a variety of products, ranging from pet food to children's toys. Mattel was forced to recall millions of toys made in China; other products under investigation included shrimp, commercial steel, lipstick, and Boy Scout badges. Ultimately, American companies were held responsible for the quality of their products in the marketplace, but monitoring quality was an enormous task due to the prevalence of Chinese products in the United States.

TRAGEDY IN MINNESOTA

On August 1, 2007, the unthinkable happened in Minneapolis when the Interstate 35W bridge collapsed during rush hour. The 1,907-foot bridge fell into the Mississippi River and onto roadways below in less than 4 seconds. As a result, there were 145 injured and 13 lives lost. The National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB) released its first report in December, revealing that a design error resulted in undersized gusset plates for the truss bridge, which was first opened in 1967. The bridge collapse prompted an increased number of safety inspections for bridges nationwide.

SALES SLUMP

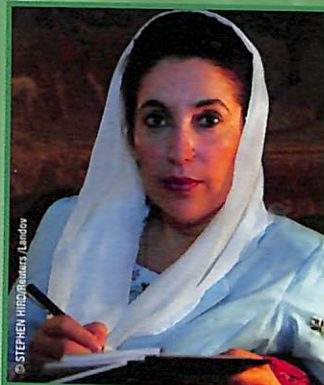

The housing market continued to battle tough times when sales by homeowners hit a record low in October. Economists pointed to the excess supply of homes on the market and adjustable rate mortgages as reasons for the slump. In December, President George W. Bush and policy makers responded by cutting the federal funds rate for the third time that year.

U.N. TROOPS TO AID DARFUR

The United Nations Security Council authorized calling up to 26,000 troops and police to supplement the 7,000 African Union force in Sudan's Darfur region. The combined United Nations-African Union operation aimed to help solve over four years of conflict in Darfur. More than 200,000 people have been killed and 2.5 million have been displaced due to the unrest and fighting in the area.

BHUTTO ASSASSINATED

Pakistan opposition leader Benazir Bhutto was assassinated after a campaign rally. Bhutto's assassination occurred just weeks before the country was to hold a parliamentary election in which she was hoping to win a third term of leadership. Bhutto, who led Pakistan from 1988 to 1990 and again from 1993 to 1996, was the first female prime minister of any Islamic state. Bhutto had been the target of several assassination attempts by Al Qaeda, the Taliban and Pakistani jihad groups.

ANSWER LOCATED ON BACK COVER

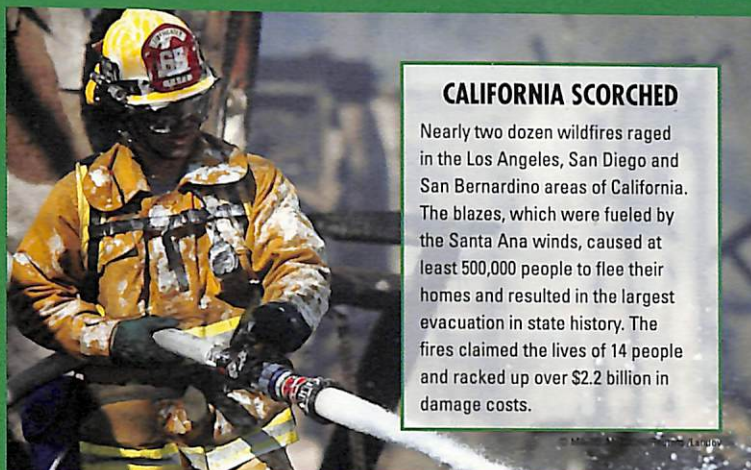

BROWN PROMISES CHANGE

After more than a decade in power, Prime Minister Tony Blair turned over No. 10 Downing Street to the new British Prime Minister, Gordon Brown. The former treasury chief promised a "new government with new priorities." The Prime Minister's call for reform included changes in international institutions to reflect the new global society and the rise of Asia.

DEMOCRACY DEFENDER DIES

Boris Yeltsin will be remembered as the man who brought democratic reform to Russia by ending over 70 years of Soviet Communism. The former Russian President died on April 23, 2007, of heart failure at the age of 76. Yeltsin won international acclaim when he stood on top of a tank in Moscow during a coup attempt against Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev.

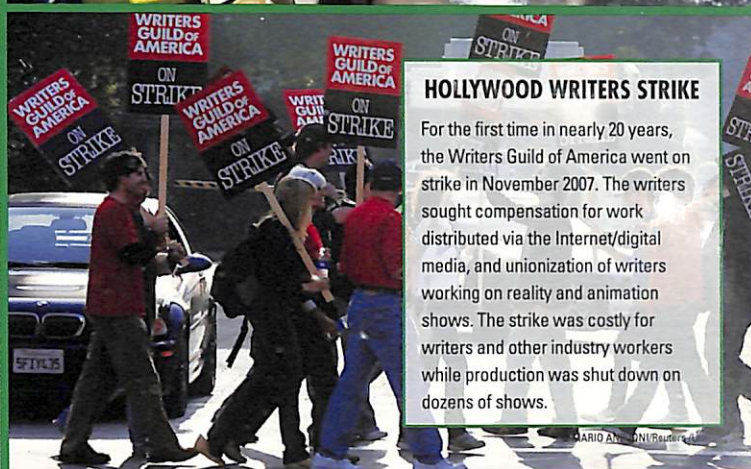

CALIFORNIA SCORCHED

Nearly two dozen wildfires raged in the Los Angeles, San Diego and San Bernardino areas of California. The blazes, which were fueled by the Santa Ana winds, caused at least 500,000 people to flee their homes and resulted in the largest evacuation in state history. The fires claimed the lives of 14 people and racked up over $2.2 billion in damage costs.

THE LONG RACE

The 2008 presidential campaign made headlines before a final candidate was even selected. The race for the presidency was already in full swing as of early 2007, which made it the longest election race in history. A variety of candidates made their bids for the White House, as Americans waited to hit the polls on November 4.

HOLLYWOOD WRITERS STRIKE

For the first time in nearly 20 years, the Writers Guild of America went on strike in November 2007. The writers sought compensation for work distributed via the Internet/digital media, and unionization of writers working on reality and animation shows. The strike was costly for writers and other industry workers while production was shut down on dozens of shows.

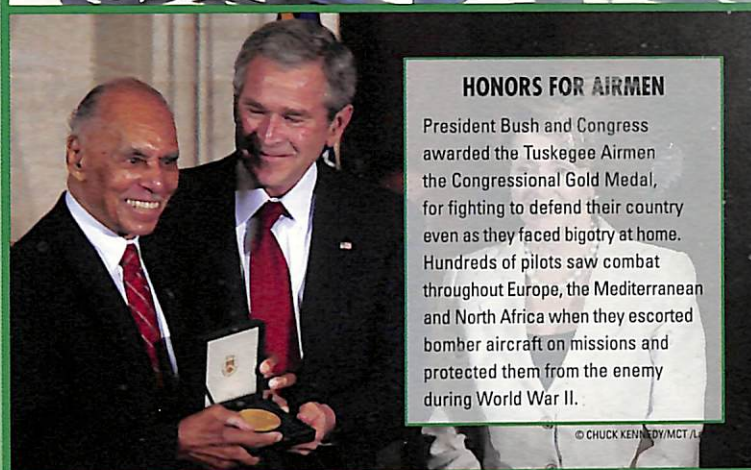

MORE MPGS

President George W. Bush signed an energy bill that updated automotive fuel economy standards for the first time in more than three decades. The new law required a corporate average of 35 miles per gallon (mpg) by the year 2020. It also boosted federal support for alternative fuel research and energy conservation efforts. The previous fuel economy standards, 27.5 mpg for passenger cars and 22.2 mpg for light trucks, were established in 1975.

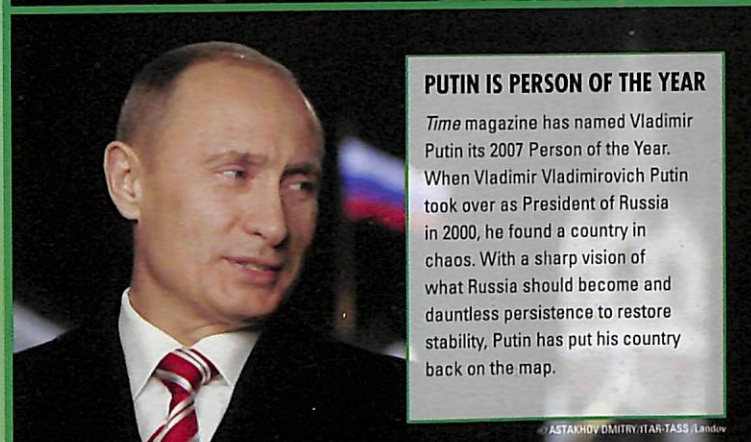

IRAQ UPDATE

In September, U.S. commander in Iraq, Gen. David Petraeus, announced that military goals of reduced killings in Baghdad and nationwide had been met. Yet, Iraqi ground forces requested U.S. forces to remain in place for the foreseeable future to help control internal security and to defend the nation from external threat. The United States has been at war in Iraq since March of 2003.

HONORS FOR AIRMEN

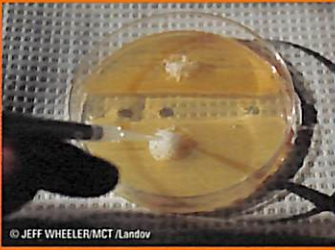

President Bush and Congress awarded the Tuskegee Army the Congressional Gold Medal, for fighting to defend their country even as they faced bigotry at home. Hundreds of pilots saw combat throughout Europe, the Mediterranean and North Africa when they escorted bomber aircraft on missions and protected them from the enemy during World War II.

PUTIN IS PERSON OF THE YEAR

Time magazine has named Vladimir Putin its 2007 Person of the Year. When Vladimir Vladimirovich Putin took over as President of Russia in 2000, he found a country in chaos. With a sharp vision of what Russia should become and dauntless persistence to restore stability, Putin has put his country back on the map.

FATAL SUPERBUG

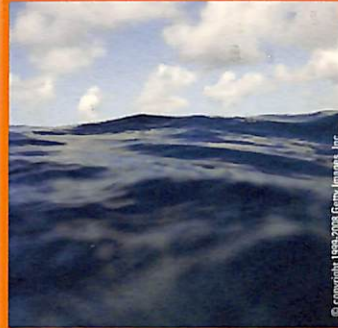

As of 2007, more than 90,000 Americans each year contracted potentially fatal staph infections from a drug-resistant "superbug." The bug was called methicillin-resistant staphylococcus, or MRSA, and its bacteria was carried by healthy people where it lived on their skin or in their noses. It raised concerns because it became more common and it was resistant to penicillin. Without a vaccine for the superbug, the number of deaths caused by it each year could surpass the number of fatalities caused by the AIDS virus.

PANDA POOP TO PAPER

Chinese researchers from the Chengdu Giant Panda Breeding Base learned how to transform a two-ton daily load of panda waste into paper. The idea originated during a visit to Thailand, when they saw paper made from elephant dung. The researchers thought that their 40 bamboo-fed pandas, which produce about two tons of waste per day, could make an even finer paper. Their next step was finding paper mills to process their fiber-rich material into high quality paper.

MONSTER OF THE DEEP

English scientists shared their discovery of an 18-inch fossilized claw that was part of an ancient sea monster. The "monster" was believed to be an 8-foot-long sea scorpion that lived 390 million years ago, and it was the largest of its kind ever found. The scorpions were dominant for millions of years before larger fish stole their reign of the deep seas.

THAT'S CLAMTASTIC!

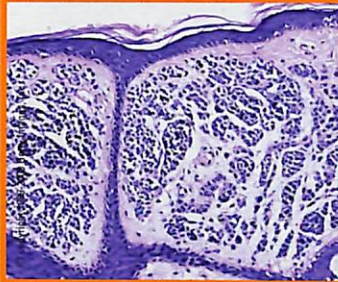

The record for the longest-living animal went to a quahog clam that was found off the coast of Iceland. The 405-year-old quahog clam, nicknamed "Ming" after the Chinese dynasty that ruled at the time of its birth, broke the record previously held by a 374-year-old clam. That was one mighty mollusk!

KING TUT REVEALED

Eighty-five years after the discovery of King Tutankhamun's 3,000-year-old mummy, Tut's face was unveiled for the first time in 2007. The pharaoh's mummified body was displayed for the public in a climate-controlled glass box to protect it from the damaging effects of humidity. The traveling Tut exhibit drew more than 4 million people during a four-city United States tour, and it increased tourism in Egypt as well—there were over 9 million visitors last year.

SKIN CELLS TO THE RESCUE

Research groups from Kyoto University and the University of Wisconsin in Madison have discovered two different genetic recipes that give ordinary human skin cells the power to turn into virtually any kind of human tissue. With this capability, a person's own skin cells could be used to mend a broken spinal cord or repair heart damage. The scientists behind this amazing discovery warned that actual use of the skin cells was still years away, but the breakthrough was a "tremendous scientific milestone."

FUEL ALTERNATIVE

Shell Oil and German biofuel company Choren Industries planned the European launch of a new road fuel called Sunfuel for late 2007. This new fuel was made from wood chips and straw, and its program pilot for synthetic diesel was expected to shift the industry. The projected change involved using plant material waste instead of valuable food crops to create fuel. Sunfuel's cost was more than the price of oil, but Shell spokesmen expected the price to come down as production volume increased.

PURPOSEFUL APPENDIX

A team of surgeons and specialists at Duke University Medical School proposed a purpose for the appendix. The small organ, located at the beginning of the large intestine, was found to be a storage place for helpful bacteria. The shape of the appendix, as well as focused studies, supported the hypothesis that the appendix's function is to store and supply healthy protective bacteria for the digestive system.

CATCH OF THE DAY

New Zealand fishermen hauled in a colossal catch when they captured the largest squid ever seen. The Colossal Squid (Mesonychoteuthis hamiltoni) weighed over half a ton and measured 33 feet in length. The enormous squid specimen was caught in the Ross Sea near Antarctica, just as it was finishing off a meal of Patagonian toothfish.

STEGER EXPLORES WARMING ARCTIC

In May 2007, Will Steger completed his expedition to the Canadian Arctic to investigate retreating glaciers and other signs of climate change, as well as how the changes affect Inuit people. Steger targeted "emerging leaders" to join his expedition because he wanted the expedition results to reach young people. The team included two Americans, two Norwegians, a Canadian and a British person.

VITAMIN D CRAVING

The "sunshine vitamin," otherwise known as vitamin D, was found to improve optimal health for humans. Sunlight triggers the human body to produce vitamin D, and most tissues and cells have receptors for the vitamin. A lack of vitamin D was linked to various cancers, tuberculosis, schizophrenia, multiple sclerosis, hip fractures, and chronic pain.

MIGHTY MOUSE

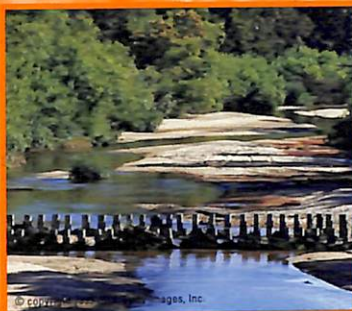

Paleontologists found the nearly complete fossilized skull of a giant prehistoric rat in Uruguay. Based on an analysis of its 21-inch-long skull, the rodent was estimated to weigh between 1 and 2.5 tons—about the size of a hippopotamus. Mighty Mouse, as the Josephoartigasia monesi specimen had been nicknamed, was a major find for researchers studying giant South American rodents.

DOUBLE CLONED BURGER

The Food and Drug Administration declared that meat and milk from cloned cattle, pigs and goats are safe to eat, which made the United States the first country to approve cloned food for consumption. The agency announced that it would not require food from clones to be labeled in the marketplace. The FDA awaited the public response to its news before moving forward; a 2006 survey documented that 64 percent of Americans are uncomfortable with animal cloning.

ARID OUTBACK

For the seventh year, Australia faced what has been called the country's worst drought in a millennium. Drinking-water reserves dipped to record lows across the country and billboards posted alarming consumption statistics. Experts warned that many nations around the world may have to adapt to less water. In response, conservation incentives and water recycling programs were implemented throughout Australia and served as an example for other countries.

NET CAPTURES NEW SPECIES

The Philippines added a new bat species to its list of 74 native species, 24 of which can only be found in the Philippines. The Mindoro Stripe-Faced Fruitbat was discovered when it was accidentally captured in a net. The orange bat, with a distinctive white-striped face, was found on an island south of Manila. Researchers from the University of Kansas and the Comparative Biogeography and Conservation of Philippine Vertebrates (CBCPV) were responsible for the discovery.

GECKO GLUE

With the help of geckos, biomedical engineers and scientists at Northwestern University invented glue that works like the adhesive on Post-it® notes, but can also work on wet surfaces. The glue was named Geckel because the sticking properties of geckos and mussels inspired its development. Geckel is planned for use in the medical, military, industrial and consumer products fields.

HONEY BEE MYSTERY

Researchers were on the lookout for a mysterious honeybee killer in the United States. The vanishing syndrome, labeled colony collapse disorder (CCD), caused bees to abandon their hives and to disappear entirely. A genetic analysis of the affected bees revealed a link between CCD and Israeli acute paralysis virus (IAPV), which causes shivering wings, paralysis and death in bees.

ENDANGERED NO LONGER

After a four-decade struggle to avoid extinction, the American bald eagle was officially removed from the endangered species list on June 28, 2007. The eagle population rose in 2007 to an estimated 10,000 mated pairs, compared with 417 eagles documented in 1963. Bald eagles continued to be protected by state statutes, the Migratory Bird Treaty Act and the Bald and Golden Eagle Act.

REEFS IN DIRE STRAITS

A new threat loomed on the horizon for the world's reefs in 2007. Due to an increase in carbon dioxide emissions, the oceans became more acidic. Oceans soak up about a quarter of all CO2 emissions and this absorption changed its chemistry. Experts warned that coral reefs and the sea life that depend on them may not survive the century unless urgent action was taken.

SUBTITLE GLASSES

Thanks to researchers at Madrid's Carlos III University, people with hearing impairments enjoyed going to the movies. The prototype for Subtitle Glasses included a mini-display that hangs over the right lens of the glasses to pick up the text that is wirelessly transmitted to it. The text is carefully timed to follow along with the movie, so that all moviegoers could enjoy the show.

VIRTUAL CITY VISIT

Google, the world's dominant search company, brought remote city streets into our homes with Google Maps' Street View. The map feature offered 360° panoramas of major cities such as New York, San Francisco and Chicago via the Web. City buildings, neighborhoods and landmarks across the United States became accessible for users who went to maps.google.com for a virtual stroll.

RISE AND SHINE

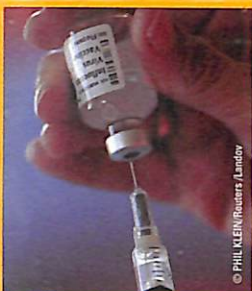

Inventors Eoin McNally and Ian Walton decided that an alarm clock was a completely unpleasant way to wake up in the morning. Instead, they created the glo Pillow. The pillow was embedded with a grid of LEDs below its surface and used the gradual increase of light as a wake-up call. The programmable foam pillow simulated a sunrise to naturally wake people up and ease them into the day.

LET IT SNOW

Northern Tibet saw its first snowfall in 2007 through the work of the Tibet Meteorological Bureau. The Chinese bureau injected clouds with silver iodide particles to create the successful half-inch (1.3 cm) of artificial snow that fell in Tibet, about 4,500 meters above sea level. The snow experiment was a response to warnings of melting glaciers and drought in the Himalayan region.

VACCINE BLOCKS BIRD FLU

The Food and Drug Administration approved the first bird flu vaccine and announced plans to stockpile it for emergency use during a crisis. The FDA's approval of the vaccine came at a critical time for preparations. In 2007, the H5N1 strain of the bird flu affected seven countries and prompted experts to warn of a pandemic if the virus gained the ability to transfer from human to human.

FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF SPUTNIK

The world's first artificial satellite was launched into space on October 4, 1957, and it signified the start of the Great Space Race. NASA Administrator Michael Griffin said, "The Sputnik accomplishment by the Russian people was responsible for the creation of the American space program." Fifty years later, Russians celebrated the Sputnik anniversary by leaving flowers at the tomb of Sergei Korolyov, the visionary behind the Sputnik launch and the father of the Soviet space program.

BOOKS "TO GO"

After several years in development, the Espresso book machine was released in 2007. The $50,000 Espresso machine printed a 300-page paperback on demand, complete with cover, in just three minutes for a cost of only a few dollars. There were initially 2.5 million books available for printing, which the machine can make in any language. The machine's creators, On Demand Books, predicted that eventually the book vending machine will have an infinite library available, due to its partnerships with Google and Open Content Alliance.

FORD SYNC'S UP

Ford and Microsoft joined forces to create Sync, a new automotive electronics system. Sync linked Bluetooth-enabled mobile phones, wireless and USB-based devices into a car audio system. The main appeal of Sync was that it could be controlled by buttons on the steering wheel or by verbal commands to read and write text messages, as well as access tracks of music by artist, title, and genre information. Sync was an available option for 12 of the 2008 Ford, Lincoln or Mercury models, and a planned option for all 2009 models.

NEW AGE MR. ROBOT

After nearly three years of work, MIT researchers finalized Domo, their robotic creation. Domo was a new breed of robot designed to assist humans with daily living. Using its computerized, human-looking eyeballs, Domo performed tasks that included identifying objects, reaching for items and placing them on shelves. Domo was equipped with a speech recognition system and the ability to sense touch, which made it an ideal helper for the elderly or mobility-impaired.

TEST PREDICTS ALZHEIMER'S

Stanford University researchers developed a new blood test that could potentially diagnose Alzheimer's disease by identifying 18 distinctive proteins that appear with consistency in the blood of Alzheimer's patients. The test demonstrated remarkable potential for predicting which patients with mild memory loss were at high risk for developing the disease. As of 2008, it was estimated that 250,000 Alzheimer's cases went undiagnosed each year in North America.

SWITCHED BLOOD TYPE

In the first known case of its type worldwide, an Australian girl spontaneously switched blood types and adopted her organ donor's immune system. Before her successful liver transplant, 9-year-old Demi-Lee Brennan was seriously ill. Nine months after the transplant, her blood type changed to match her donor's type when stem cells migrated from her new liver to her bone marrow. Despite the unusual nature of her recovery, Demi-Lee's health returned.

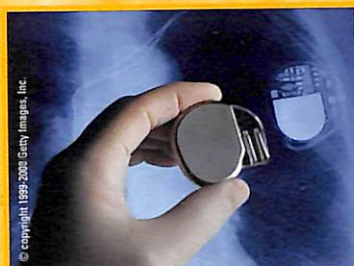

LAPTOPS FOR ALL

Nicholas Negroponte of the MIT Media Lab developed a computer that was attainable for the masses. For $150, a person could purchase the XO Laptop. Although the XO Laptop was not the most powerful computer made, the stripped-down machine was a good option for developing nations and for low-income areas within the United States. The low price encouraged governments to buy in bulk and it made a home computer a reality for many.

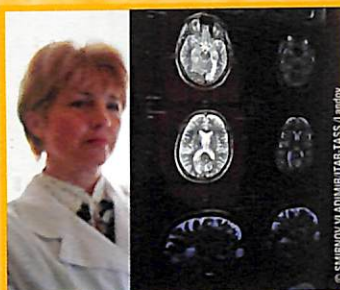

ULTIMATE HELIUM EXPERIMENT

Kent Couch of Bend, Ore., fulfilled his childhood dream when he floated 193 miles, from Oregon to Idaho, on a lawn chair with 105 helium balloons attached. Couch's flying lawn chair was equipped with a GPS system that also measured altitude and speed. After nine hours in the air and reaching an altitude of 15,500 feet, Couch popped enough balloons to safely land his "aircraft" on stable ground.

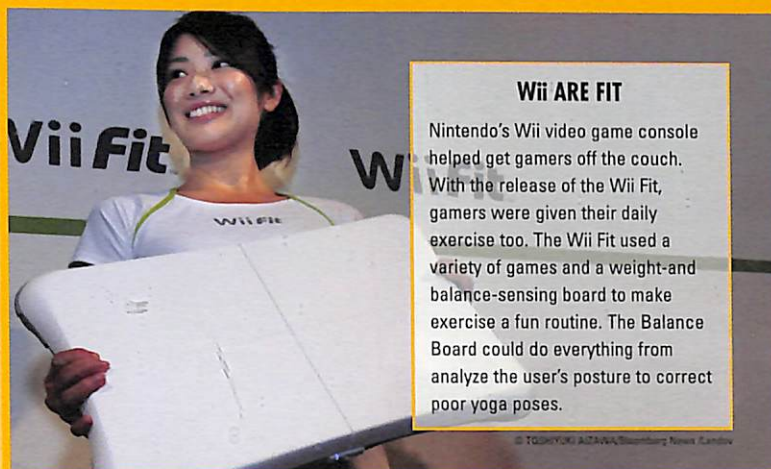

A LIFE-SAVING MISTAKE

Fifty years ago, Wilson Greatbatch made a small error while testing a device that was intended to record heart sounds. The mistake led to Greatbatch's improvement on the pacemaker design—the first implantable pacemaker. Prior to Greatbatch's accidental discovery, pacemakers were the size of a TV set and painful to use. Wilson Greatbatch's pacemaker was named one of the top ten greatest engineering contributions to society by the National Society of Professional Engineers.

AWAKENING HOPE

A trial treatment for brain injuries offered hope for trauma patients. A gentle current of electricity was delivered by an implanted deep-brain stimulator (DBS) to the injured brain of a 31-year-old male patient, and it successfully roused him from six years spent in a semi-conscious state. The electric treatment provided scientists with the insight to analyze brain activity and further develop methods for reconnecting unconscious patients with the world.

Wii ARE FIT

Nintendo's Wii video game console helped get gamers off the couch. With the release of the Wii Fit, gamers were given their daily exercise too. The Wii Fit used a variety of games and a weight-and-balance-sensing board to make exercise a fun routine. The Balance Board could do everything from analyze the user's posture to correct poor yoga poses.

INVENTION OF THE YEAR

According to Time magazine, Apple's iPhone was 2007's Invention of the Year. The magazine bestowed its honor on Apple's cell phone because it was the first handheld computer to function as a mobile phone with an innovative touchscreen. In addition, the iPhone featured the stylish design and ease-of-use that consumers have come to expect from the Apple brand.

SUPERJUMBO JET

At long last, the Airbus A380 took its inaugural flight from Singapore to Sydney for Singapore Airlines. The A380 was the largest jetliner ever built and it boasted two passenger decks; 12 first class suites with actual beds; and regular seats with power plugs and personal video screens. Several passengers paid over $100,000 to become a part of history on the A380's maiden voyage.

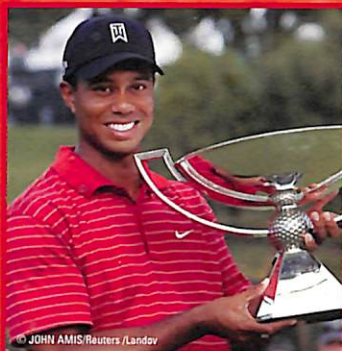

MICROSOFT CREATES SURFACE

With the introduction of its latest innovation, Microsoft brought touchscreen technology to a whole new level. The Microsoft Surface tabletop computer could respond to multiple touches, digital and non-digital objects. Without the use of a keyboard or mouse, the Surface interacted with cameras, phones and paint brushes used on its interactive surface.

THE SCOREBOARD

TIGER TRIUMPHS

For the second year in a row, Woods claimed seven titles in a single season; he also secured golf's first-ever FedEx Cup and its $10 million bonus. The Golf Writers Association of America named Tiger its 2007 player of the year—an award that he won a record nine times within eleven years. With 62 PGA Tour titles to his name in 2008, Tiger Woods tied an impressive record set by golf great Arnold Palmer.

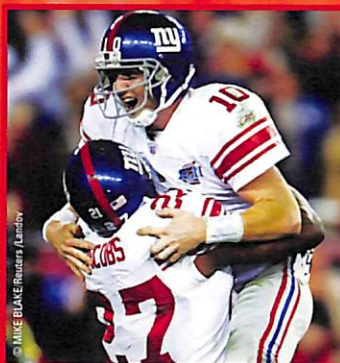

TEXAS BASKETBALL DYNASTY

The San Antonio Spurs have earned a place among basketball's elite. After sweeping the Cleveland Cavaliers 83-82 in Game Four of the NBA Finals, the Spurs added their third title in five years and their fourth in the last nine seasons. The Spurs joined the Boston Celtics, Los Angeles Lakers and Chicago Bulls as the only teams in NBA history to win four titles. Tony Parker, who averaged 24.5 points, was the first NBA player from Europe to be honored as MVP.

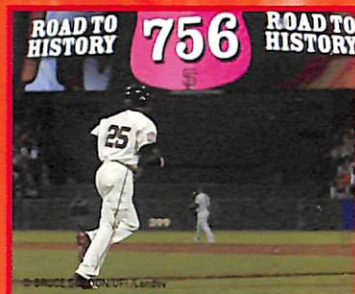

UNSTOPPABLE HENIN

After the longest three-set final in tournament history, Justine Henin rallied past Maria Sharapova to win the Sony Ericsson Championships and claim her 10th title of 2007. Henin was named Women's World Champion for the second year in a row, in addition to her 2003 title. She won two Grand Slam titles, Roland Garros and the U.S. Open, and she became the first woman to earn more than $5 million in a single year.

A GIANT UPSET

Super Bowl MVP Eli Manning threw two touchdown passes to lead the New York Giants to a 17-14 victory over the previously undefeated (18-0) New England Patriots. Giants wide receiver David Tyree amazed spectators with an outstanding catch that paved the way for the game-winning touchdown. With a record 97.5 million viewers, Super Bowl XLII was the most-watched Super Bowl match-up in sports history.

BONDS BEATS RECORD

Barry Bonds of the San Francisco Giants made headlines when he broke Hank Aaron's 33-year reign over the home run record with run No. 756 in the 5th inning against the Washington Nationals. Bonds achieved the record-breaking run by hitting the 84-mph fastball 435 feet into the right-center field seats. Major League Baseball Commissioner Bud Selig said, "While the issues which have swirled around this record will continue to work themselves toward resolution, today is a day for congratulations on a truly remarkable achievement."

BOSTON'S BIG WIN

In 2004, the Boston Red Sox earned a long-overdue World Series title. After a 4-3 victory over the Colorado Rockies in Game 4, the Sox became Major League Baseball champions for the second time in four seasons. The win became a certainty when pitching powerhouse Jonathan Papelbon struck out Seth Smith to seal the 2007 World Series title for Boston.

PHOENIX RISING

The Phoenix Mercury seemed to do the impossible in the 2007 WNBA Finals. For the first time ever, they won a WNBA championship on another team's home court. The Phoenix beat defending champions, the Detroit Shock, with a 108-92 win. Phoenix's "big three"—MVP Cappie Pondexter, Diana Taurasi and Penny Taylor brought home the title for a franchise that had not been to the playoffs since 2000.

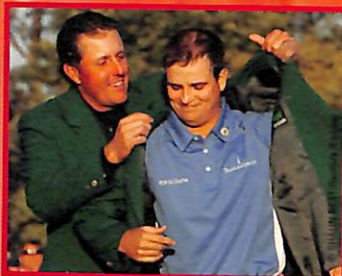

WINTER X GAMES 12

Shaun White scored his 12th Winter X medal in Aspen, Colo., with a gold medal win in the games' finale event, the Snowboard SuperPipe. Aspen's Gretchen Bleiler won the gold medal for the women's Snowboard SuperPipe event. Snowboarder Nate Holland grabbed his third consecutive gold, while Lindsey Jacobellis claimed her first X gold in three years. Also noteworthy was snowmobiler Levi LaVallee's triple gold medal wins.

SOCCER GREATS

The world's top male and female soccer players for 2007 were named by FIFA, and both players hail from Brazil. AC Milan's Kaká became the fifth Brazilian to be named FIFA World Player of the Year. The midfielder also was honored as Europe's top player for 2007. For the women, Marta Vieira da Silva captured her second consecutive World Player of the Year title. She helped the Brazilian team compete in the FIFA Women's World Cup in China.

JOHNSON IS THE MASTER

Zach Johnson, from Cedar Rapids, IA, won the Masters title with a two-shot victory at the 2007 tournament in Augusta, Ga. It was the 31-year-old's first Major tournament victory and only his third tournament win overall. Johnson finished the season with nearly $4 million in earnings.

PRIZE-WINNING READ

The American Library Association announced its pick for this year's John Newbery Medal for best children's book: Laura Amy Schlitz's Good Masters! Sweet Ladies!: Voices From a Medieval Village. Schlitz has been working on the book since 1997, when she got the idea while teaching fifth grade students about the Middle Ages. Schlitz viewed the prized book as a chance to combine education and entertainment.

ECO-CRUSADER

Colin Beavan achieved a personal challenge—to live in New York City for one year without negatively impacting the environment in any way. Beavan, along with his wife and 2-year-old daughter, committed to live without producing trash, carbon emissions and toxins, as well as avoiding the use of any environmentally harmful machines. Beavan's accomplishment earned him recognition as one of the Most Influential Men of 2007, according to msn.com.

HANNAH MONTANA CRAZE

Miley Cyrus, a.k.a. Hannah Montana, became a 15-year-old phenomenon! She was credited with a #1 Album; #1 cable TV show (The Disney Channel's Hannah Montana); a Hannah Montana movie; and a nationwide musical tour. The Hannah Montana & Miley Cyrus: Best of Both Worlds Concert 3-D movie debuted over Super Bowl weekend and earned a record $29 million.

FASHION WITH A PURPOSE

In just two years, Lindsay Giambattista of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., turned a community service project into a thriving non-profit organization. Lindsay started with only 10 trash bags full of apparel to provide clothing for girls in foster care. Taylor's Closet, named after Lindsay's sister who died at birth, received $1 million dollars worth of clothing per year from designers, retailers and private donations in 2007.

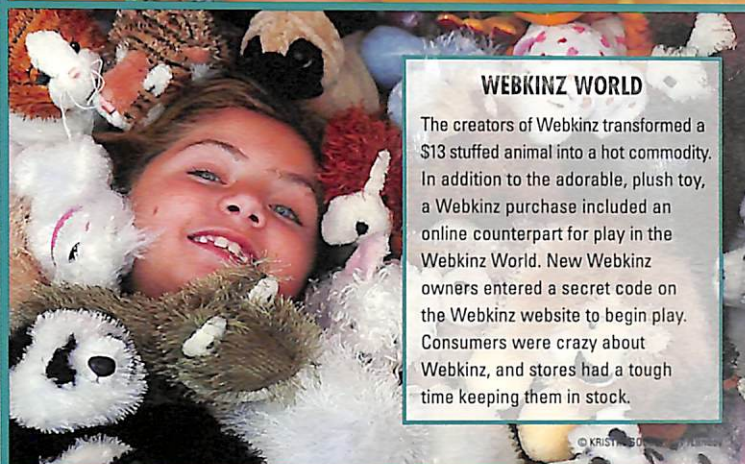

TRENDS & FADS

For 2007, trends included a mix of fabrics and materials such as plaid, tweed, patent leather, animal prints and metallics. Jeans became skinny or wide-leg, and longer shirts became the norm. Platform heels, ballet flats, booties and knee-high boots were seen on nearly every city sidewalk. Additional trends included bright colors, eco-friendly fashion, tote bags, trapeze dresses, empire waists and oversized clutch purses.

EVEREST HERO DIES

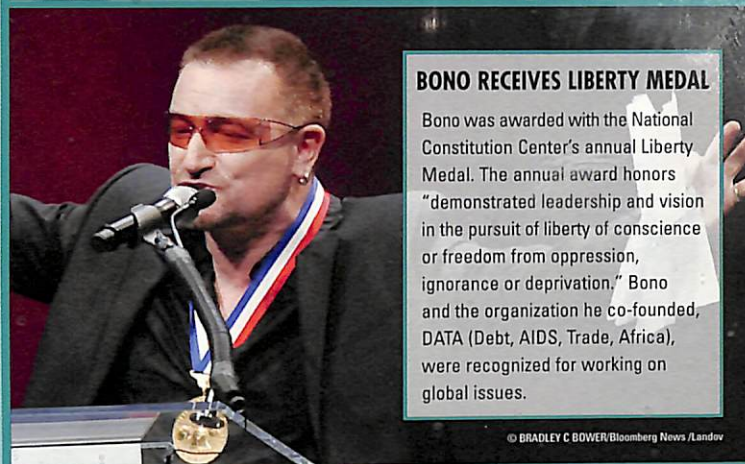

Sir Edmund Hillary, the first man to successfully climb the world's highest peak, died at the age of 88 on January 11, 2008. Hillary, along with Tenzing Norgay, completed his scale of the 29,035-foot Mount Everest on May 29, 1953. After his famed ascent, Hillary led many expeditions to the South Pole. Hillary founded the Himalayan Trust, which was responsible for building hospitals, clinics, bridges, airstrips and nearly 30 schools.

WEBKINZ WORLD

The creators of Webkinz transformed a $13 stuffed animal into a hot commodity. In addition to the adorable, plush toy, a Webkinz purchase included an online counterpart for play in the Webkinz World. New Webkinz owners entered a secret code on the Webkinz website to begin play. Consumers were crazy about Webkinz, and stores had a tough time keeping them in stock.

LENO'S RETIREMENT PLAN

Jay Leno announced that he will retire from his post as resident funnyman on NBC's The Tonight Show in 2009. Yet, late night humor buffs need not despair—Conan O'Brien will reputedly take over Leno's seat at the top-rated late-night show. In a written statement for NBC, Leno said, "I felt that the timing was right to plan for my successor and there is no one more qualified than Conan."
