DEDICATION

Because it was the forerunner of a custom which has been many times successfully duplicated in the years since; because it was the first attempt made to commemorate our school and the joys and sorrows of a school year, we dedicate this volume to the first annual published by the students of Star Valley High School the Vallis Stallarum.

May the custom that had its beginning in the Vallis Stallarum grow and expand as the years advance.

Principal's Message

Nature has endowed Star Valley with many wonderful resources, but the factor which will determine, to the greatest degree, the importance of this valley in future years will be the type of citizens that we help train in the Star Valley High School.

Let us hope that we have met the challenge of this responsibility to our Valley to our State and to our Nation.

On behalf of our faculty may I extend best wishes to each student and especially to members of the graduating class.

O. J. HOLDAWAY
Principal

Superintendent's Message

Students of the Star Valley High School, once again you approach the end of another school year. For many of you, this year will end your school days and before long you will assume the responsibilities and pleasures of a home of your own. In your group are many of the high school's best, but for some reason, you may fail to see the value of additional school training. May it be your lot to urge others to professionalism.

We, the Senior Class of S.V.H.S., have quite a record. The following sentences are strictly our own opinions, but we're sure they will be vouched for by most anyone else.

We are the leaders of our school, the best class, and (if anyone happens to ask you) we are also the brightest students. We are the "noise" at the pep rallies, the Frank Sinatras and Dinah Shores in mixed chorus, the beautiful and manly at the shows, and the graceful at the dances. Of course, we are the cause of the janitor's and a few of the teacher's headaches, but that's to be expected. We are the pride of the school and the hope of the valley.

To you, the poor unfortunate left in school, we leave the many artistically carved desks, the worn blackboards, and Messrs. Holdaway, Call, and Mallory, with many thanks to the teachers and you kids who have helped us so much.

Our class secretary, Cleo Wilkes, is well known on the campus for her big brown eyes and her blonde hair. With that combination plus a mighty cute smile, no wonder she receives the boys' votes.

Anne's personality is well illustrated by this snap atop Mr. Lowe's Streamline Dodge. She's "tops" and has a host of friends.

Besides being a good student, Nord's winning smile has made him popular with his fellow students. To the girls, he first appears shy and bashful, but when they get to know him—hummm!!

No, these are not the girls from S. V. H. S. that are candidates for Hollywood careers, even if from a glamour point of view they would be successful (including Mrs. Mallory, our Advisor). They are twenty-four hard working girls who are the official hostesses of our school and who must maintain a "B" average to remain in the club. Upon the request of the student body they sponsored Sadie Hawkins' Day which we hope they will make an annual event. The year will be climaxed by sponsoring Girls' Day and going to Greenriver to the basketball tournament.

CONCERT BAND

Orchids to Mrs. Stocks and the band! They have worked hard to raise money for new uniforms which will arrive too late for year-book pictures but they are really classy. You won't be deceived by looks either 'caus their playing ability matches the uniforms. We hope you succeed in making the National this year!

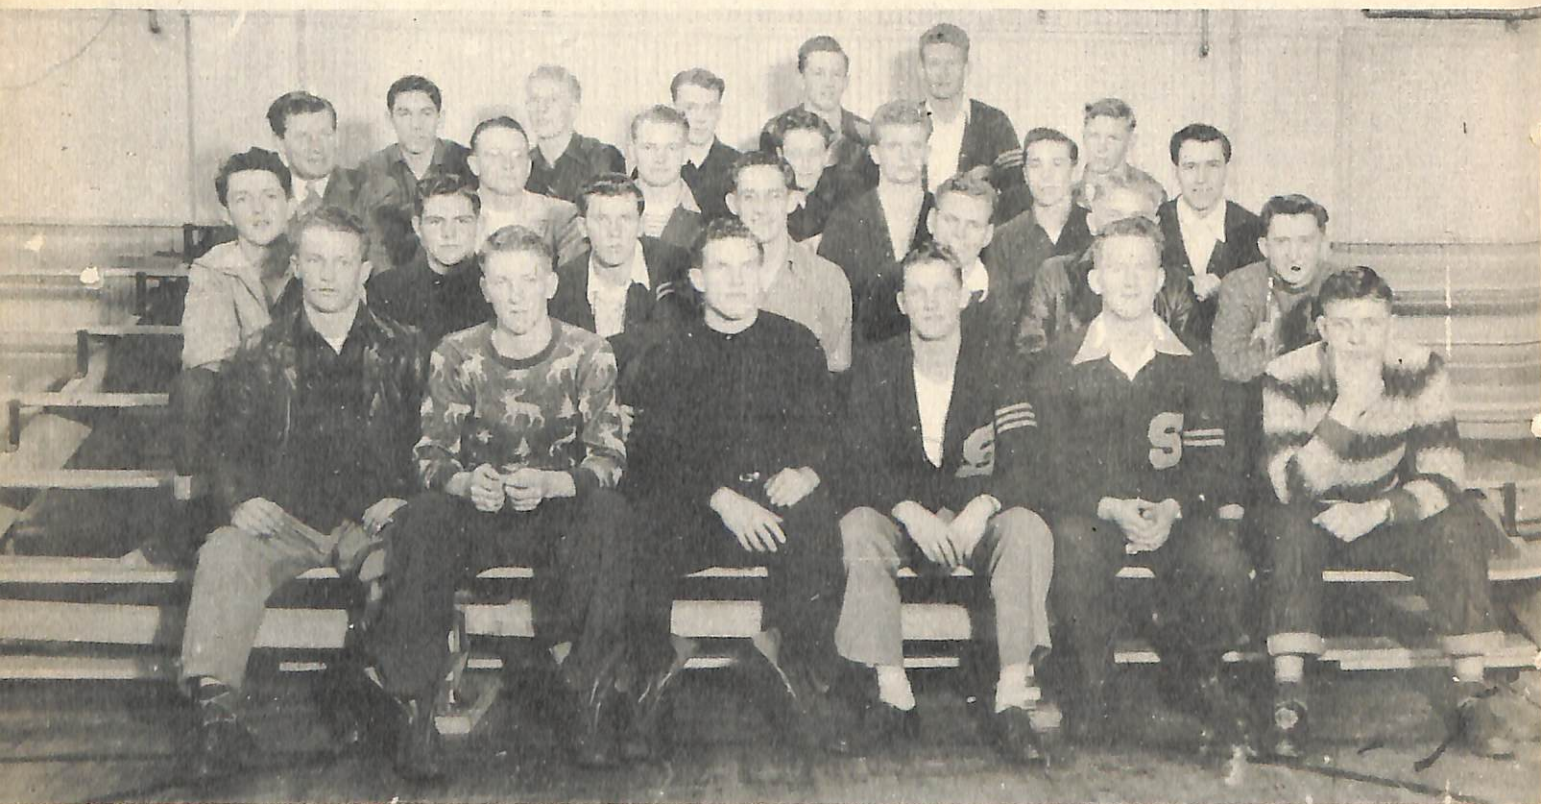

MARCHING BAND

ORCHESTRA

Our orchestra is really up and doing things this year. Mrs. Stocks must have a supply of atomic energy the way she gets things accomplished. The concert tour for this year will include Kemmerer, Cokeville, Paris, Montpelier, Rock Springs, Greenriver, and Evanston.

Four students act as the main editors of the paper.

SPORTS HIGHLIGHTS

Boxing has received much attention during "46" and "47". The team had matches with Driggs, Evanston, and Jackson.

The "Lions Club" of Afton purchased new suits for the boxing team to show the club's appreciation for a fine boxing show the boys put on in their behalf.

All boxing smokers were well attended and interest in this sport reached a new high this past year for Star Valley High.
